Austin, Texas – June 16, 2010 – Crossroads Systems, Inc. (symbol: CRDS), a global provider of solutions to connect, protect, secure and restore data, today announced that Anyck Turgeon, Chief of Information Strategy and Security, was named a finalist today as Executive of the Year in Information Technology and as Executive of the Year for Computer Services & Software in the 2010 American Business Awards.

The American Business Awards are the nation's premier business awards program. All organizations operating in the United States are eligible to submit entries – public and private, for-profit and non-profit, large and small. More than 2,700 entries from organizations of all sizes and in virtually every industry were submitted for consideration in more than 40 categories.

Turgeon's accomplishments were reviewed by independent business professionals nationwide during preliminary judging in April and May. Her double nomination indicates her visionary leadership in technology, security and innovation. Members of the Awards' Board of Distinguished Judges & Advisors and specialized final judging committees select Stevie Award winners in final judging.

This year's Stevie Award winners will be announced during the annual gala on Monday, June 21 at the Marriott Marquis Hotel in New York City. More than 600 executives from across the United States are expected to attend. The event will benefit Oceana (oceana.org), the largest international organization focused on ocean conservation.
